Freedom Foundation Cites Eldorado Bootstrap Program

Receives Top Award for Communities

Dodd Participates In Ceremonies at Valley Forge, Pa.

One of the highest honors that could be bestowed on a city today came to the neighboring city of Eldorado.

Today the city's Operation Bootstrap program, which won fame far and near, was awarded the Freedom Foundation's top award for community programs.

The Eldorado Community Development association, organized with the help of Southern Illinois university, today received a $1,000 cash award and a George Washington Honor Medal in recognition for its study and action program that began a year ago last fall.

T. Leo Dodd, former ETHS principal and the president of the association, went to Valley Forge, Pa., to participate in the award ceremonies.

Citation of Commendation

A citation from the Foundation commended Eldorado as follows:

"For the Operation Bootstrap project, the story of a town in which the period of growth was wearing out, complacency and inertia were settling down, physical assets were deteriorating, attention to civic enterprises was ebbing, and the absence of opportunities were symptomatic of a decay that infected the entire community life, when the idea generated that with wide spread and energetic action, the town could lift itself up by its own bootstraps, and it did!"

The Operation Bootstrap program at Eldorado was undertaken with the aid of Richard W. Poston, director of Southern Illinois university's department of community development. Through public meetings at which townspeople analyzed their problems and recommended solutions, the town has attracted industry, improved beautification projects, improved recreation and opportunities for youth, and bolstered community pride.

Highlight of the program was the big Bootstrap parade held the past summer, with numerous floats, which ended with a big rally at

Report Uranium Ore In Hicks Dome Area Of Hardin County

Mineral rights around Hicks Dome in Hardin county are being leased by Kentucky and Indiana interests as reports persist that there may be uranium ore in the area, it was learned today.

Hicks Dome is a short distance east of Route 34 between Herod and Eichhorn.

Harry Porter, editor of the Hardin County Independent, said this morning that the cause of the excitement is that about three years ago, when the St. Joseph Lead Co. drilled an oil test that was dry and abandoned, some of the coring showed radio-activity.

Now, he said, the word has gotten out and leasing of the area in the vicinity of the well has started. Geiger counters and other instruments are being used in the area, he stated.

Dinner Club Meeting Thursday

The Southern Illinois Dinner Club will meet Thursday, Feb. 24, at 6:30 p. m. at the Kurto Country club.

Robert Christopher, young world adventurer, will be the guest speaker and will tell of his trip around the world on $80. He completed the trip in 84 days after traveling 28,000 miles, visiting foreign lands, crossing two oceans, when "grubstaked" by Colliers magazine.

Club members are asked to make advance reservations for themselves and their guests with Rees Turner, secretary.

The old steps were removed and with volunteer work the community built a more presentable and practical set of steps. Recently the ornamental iron was added, and, incidentally, it was made by a small Eldorado industry, the Murray ornamental iron works.

Flags Wave in Eldorado, Winner of Freedom Foundation's Top Award

ELDORADO, Ill. (U)—Flags waved along the streets today in this southern Illinois city that won the Freedom's Foundation top prize for community programs on the basis of its "operation Bootstrap."

The cash award and honor medal were awarded in Valley Forge, Pa., to this former coal mining town that is fighting its way out of a depression that came when the mines it depended on for a living closed down.

A citation received by T. Leo Dodd, president of the Eldorado Community Development Assn., commended the city of 4,000 for "Operation Bootstrap" project.

Postpone Big Celebration

The citizens of Eldorado and its surrounding area now have aid from another source besides their own efforts. Oil wells have been brought in at a rapid rate in the last few weeks and the oil boom will have an impact of as yet unknown force on the community's economy.

Grace Karnes, editor of the semi-weekly Examiner, said Eldorado will postpone a big celebration over the award until Dodd returns with the prizes. A date early in March will be selected for a community-wide celebration.

For the present, citizens will be invited to sign their names in a big book that will be placed in the city archives to show they were here in the days when Eldorado pulled itself up by its bootstraps.

"Bootstrap" goes back to September, 1933, when some of the citizens heard of a new department of community development at Southern Illinois university at Carbondale. The department was headed by Richard W. Poston, who had helped communities in Washington state improve themselves.

Gil Montgomery, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said his group works closely with "Bootstrap." Plans are well advanced for a new factory building to be financed by the community and a large aluminum casting firm appears a likely tenant.

The Oil Boom

Montgomery, district manager for the Minerva oil company, said the oil boom "has reoriented the entire program and will change the whole complexion of the city."

"The oil will mean rentals and royalties to a large number of people in the city and the township around us," he said. "and they will spend money here. The number of new jobs connected with oil will be limited but the indirect jobs will be multiple."

He said 138 producing wells have been drilled in the area—including some in the city itself. He estimated 8,000 persons in the township and city will benefit directly or indirectly.

However, as Miss Karnes said, it will be about six months before royalty checks arrive. Meanwhile, oil companies and their workers are spending money and several supply firms seek buildings to set up business.

Eldorado set out months ago to help itself and now, even with an added boost they hadn't planned on, are working just as hard to complete the task of pulling the city up by its bootstraps.

Carrier Mills Woman Is Injured in Crash

Tempie Farrar of Carrier Mills was treated at the Harrisburg hospital for lacerations on the head, hands and wrists suffered this morning when her car and one driven by Jeff Heaton, 14, Carrier Mills, figured in a collision on Route 45 at Carrier Mills.

Deputy Sheriff James S. Lyon said that Heaton was going north-east on Route 45 and the crash occurred when Mrs. Farrar pulled out onto the highway at a crossing.

Damage to both vehicles was considerable.

The youth was given a ticket for operating a vehicle without a driver's license.

Water Level in City Reservoir Rises Eight Inches

The water level in the north reservoir on Middle Fork rose eight inches Sunday night and Monday as the result of the pumping operation from the creek, Amos Doorn, water superintendent, reported today.

As a result, all land is covered, only a few dried weeds and a couple of stumps in one corner remaining in sight.

The 14,500 gallon per minute pump ran nine hours from 11:30 a. m. Sunday until 8:30 a. m. yesterday. Then the 3,000 gallon per minute pump was in operation from 8:30 a. m. until 3:30 p. m.

The Congo pump, which pumps about 900 gallons a minute, was slated to be in operation today.

Lake Harrisburg raised about a foot as a result of the week-end rain, R. R. Brown reported this morning.

AEC Explodes 'Whispering' Atomic Device

Blast Produces 800-Mile Flash of Light, Little Sound

ATOP ANGEL'S PEAK, Nev. (U)—The Atomic Energy Commission celebrated Washington's Birthday today by exploding a "whispering" atomic device that produced an 800-mile flash of light but surprisingly little noise.

The blast, the second of the week-old 1955 nuclear testing series, apparently was of a "standard-size" atomic weapon with a medium explosive force of some 15,000 to 20,000 tons of TNT. By comparison, the Nagasaki and Hiroshima bombs were rated at roughly 25,000 tons.

It was touched off on schedule in the pre-dawn darkness of the desert from a 300-foot steel tower on Yucca Flat and threw out a brilliant flash-bulb panorama of light that was seen over a roughly 400-mile radius in San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego, Calif.

But veteran observers outside the Nevada Proving Grounds failed to hear the usual thunderclap sound wave that has accompanied previous detonations of the medium-intensity variety.

Sound Wave Missing

Even from this mountain peak vantage point, 8,900 feet up and only 45 miles from the test site, no sound was heard. In Las Vegas, 75 miles distant, only a low rumble was discernible.

The AEC, as usual, remained mum as to the type of device, its "yield" in explosive force and other details of the blast.

The rumble in Las Vegas was accompanied by a minor shock wave that shattered big plate glass windows, but, unlike the first tests five years ago, caused no breakage.

In other respects, today's blast was "ordinary," with the possible exception that the fireball appeared to be of unusually short duration—perhaps merely because it disappeared quicker behind a pall of desert dust that obscured it from off-site viewers.

The fireball, orange and purple, rolled rapidly into the forming mushroom. It was visible for six seconds, then obscured. Suddenly it appeared for another four seconds, to make a total duration of visibility of 10 seconds, as compared to minutes in previous blasts.

GOP Leaders Hint President May Throw His Influence Against Tax Cut Measure

WASHINGTON (U)—Republican congressional leaders hinted today that President Eisenhower will throw his influence against the tax cut.

They discussed the tax measure with the chief executive at their regular weekly White House meeting.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland and Rep. Leslie Arends (R-Ill.) told reporters they are both opposed to the Democratic proposal for a $20-a-person tax cut.

They declined to quote Mr. Eisenhower's views. But Knowland said he expects the President "will make his views known very clearly at the proper time."

Mr. Eisenhower said in his Budget Message to Congress last year that he "hoped" to be able to recommend tax cuts next year but said none were warranted this year.

Deery Loss of Revenue

Knowland and Arends said they oppose the cut at this time because of the loss of revenue.

Arends said he believes the issue should be taken to the voters with emphasis on what the tax cut would mean in reducing federal receipts.

His suggestion brought up the Reports reaching here were that Mr. Fischer had gone to his class yesterday morning, and complained of being dizzy. He was taken to a hospital, where he died.

Mr. Fischer, 36 years old, was transferred to Harrisburg in December from Chicago after the retirement of E. B. Norton, agent in this area for years.

He and Mrs. Fischer and their two children resided at 109 South Mill street. The children are Ruth, a freshman at Harrisburg Township high school, and Judith, an eighth grade pupil at Harrisburg Junior high school.

It was learned at the city hall, where his office was situated in the same room with the Internal Revenue Service, that he left Harrisburg a week ago last Saturday to take the training course in Washington.

It also was reported that the body would be sent from Washington to Chicago, his former home.

Outlines 10-Year Plan in Special Message

President Blames Unsafe Highways For Traffic Deaths

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower urged Congress today to approve a 10-year, 101-billion-dollar highway improvement program.

He said the nation's present road network is inadequate and unsafe, and would breed "deadly congestion" in event of atomic attack.

In an 1,800-word special message to the House and Senate, Mr. Eisenhower underscored the urgency of highway improvements with an estimate that 81 million vehicles will travel a total of 814 billion miles over America's roads in 1965. He said present traffic jams "only faintly foreshadow those of 10 years hence."

Mr. Eisenhower also warned that at present rates of development, it will be the year 2005 before the nation has an interstate highway network of "even a reasonable level of extent and efficiency."

He blamed "inadequate" and "unsafe" roads for causing many of the 36,000 highway deaths each year, and said:

"To the home where the tragic aftermath of an accident on an unsafe road is a gap in the family circle, the monetary worth of preventing that death cannot be reckoned."

Although he pulled no punches in stressing the need for heavy federal, state and local outlays on highways, Mr. Eisenhower left it up to Congress to work out such controversial details as how to finance the huge program.

Mr. Eisenhower said he was "inclined" to favor financing the proposed $31,225,000,000 federal share of the program by special bond issues to be paid off with revenues from gas and diesel oil taxes and in some instances by highway tolls.

But, in the face of sharp Democratic opposition to bond financing, he did not insist on this method of footing the bills.

Mr. Eisenhower forwarded to Congress, along with his own comparatively brief message, the previously published recommendations of his special Highway Advisory Committee headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

This committee recommended a 10-year, 101-billion-dollar highway building program with the federal government bearing about 30 per cent of the cost. Most of the federal outlay, 25 billion dollars, would go to expand and improve the 40,000-mile interstate highway system that links most of the nation's principal cities.

Mr. Eisenhower said the recommendations of his Advisory Committee provided "a solid foundation for a solid program." But he steered clear of precise detail, and did not commit himself to such controversial aspects of the Advisory Committee recommendations as its proposal to issue 30-year bonds to finance the federal share.

Democratic members of the Senate and House Public Works Committees, who discussed the highway plan with Mr. Eisenhower at a bipartisan White House conference Monday, already have made plain their opposition to this kind of financing.

Another controversial proposal of the Clay Committee, to which Mr. Eisenhower did not refer to in detail, was that the states be given financial credit for toll roads in matching federal highway aid funds. Democrats in Congress and some Republican governors have protested this proposal.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Civil Defense Was One Of Last To Know Dangers Of Fall-Out; Director Peterson Revising Plans For Evacuating Cities; Telephone Attorney Will Now Pass On Telephone Rates On Behalf Of Unsuspecting Public.

WASHINGTON. — Probably the most amazing development in the bogged-down field of civil defense is the fact that the Atomic Energy Commission didn't bother for a long time to tell Civil Defense Director Val Peterson about the greatly increased hazard to the American people from H-bomb "fall-out."

Peterson is charged with the job of defending the USA in case of H-bomb attack. Yet it was weeks after the sensational H-bomb explosion in the Pacific last March before the Atomic Energy Commission, much more interested in Dixon-Yates, told him how difficult his civil-defense problem had become by reason of the fall-out dust from the H-bomb.

Furthermore, Adm. Lewis Strauss, AEC chairman, did not bother to inform the American people about the new danger until Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico wrote him a sharp letter insisting that the public was entitled to know the shocking facts about radioactivity in the wake of the H-bomb.

Senator Kefauver of Tennessee today is giving civil defense a much needed shot in the arm by holding Senate hearings. From these a new system of civil defense may evolve.

Because the H-bomb fall-out covers such wide territory, Civil Defense Director Peterson is already revising his plan for evacuating cities. People would have to travel much too far to be safe.

THE STEPCILD

Senator Kefauver may also point to the manner in which the Eisenhower administration has made the vitally important Civil Defense Administration a stepchild. No agency should be in closer touch with the Army and Air Force than Civil Defense; yet it was excluded to Battle Creek, Mich., chiefly to help Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan in his campaign for reelection.

Even the appointment of Peterson was a fluke. An ex-governor of Nebraska, he was originally scheduled to be Secretary of the Interior. But the late Senator Butler of Nebraska, whom Peterson had opposed for reelection, vigorously objected. Then Ike proposed making him Undersecretary of Agriculture.

Again Butler objected. Then Ike planned to send Peterson as ambassador to India, where he had served during the war. Butler even opposed this.

Finally Peterson was appointed to the White House staff, to which his senatorial enemy from Nebraska could not object, and later he was shifted to Civil Defense where he's been doing a good job.

FRIEND OF PHONES

Here's what the American public should watch for if the Senate confirms George McConaughy to be chairman of the Federal Communications Commission: a general hike in phone rates.

Here is the backstage reason for this prediction.

For a long time the American Telephone and Telegraph company has been trying to get the FCC to change its base for fixing phone rates. In the past the FCC has held that rates should be based upon the original cost of the phone company's equipment. But the phone company wants rates based on the replacement value of its equipment, arguing that costs have gone up since the equipment was first purchased.

So far the FCC has refused. It knows that such a change in rate base would send phone rates up all over the country. Already phone rates have been increased $800,000,000 in recent years.

However, new FCC Chairman McConaughy has already pioneered exactly this rate-base change in Ohio.

Significantly, McConaughy tried to shay away from this back-ground when first quizzed by the senators last fall. He was not then under oath.

When Sen. John Pastore of Rhode Island asked whether McConaughy ever represented people "who ordinarily have business before the commission," McConaughy replied:

"I have never represented anyone who had business before the Federal Communications Commission."

"Have you numbered among your clients at any time American Telephone and Telegraph?" asked able Senator Monroney of Oklahoma moment later.

"No sir," replied McConaughy. "You have never represented them?"

"No sir, never represented the American Telephone and Telegraph company," replied McConaughy without batting an eye.

Actually McConaughy has represented the Ohio Bell Telephone company, a part of American Tel and Tel; also Cincinnati and Suburban Telephone.

Furthermore, McConaughy represented them in the most important phone-rate cases brought recently in Ohio; namely, Ohio Bell vs. Ohio Public Utilities Commission, 154 Ohio State 107; and Cincinnati and Suburban vs. Ohio Public Utilities Commission, 16 Ohio State 395.

These were the cases involving the same principle which A. T. & T. wants to change in the Federal Communications Commission — namely, rates based on reproduction costs, not on the original cost of equipment.

McConaughy, attorney for the phone interests, took the cases up to the Supreme Court of Ohio and won. As a result, his two Ohio phone companies now have the highest earning records of any affiliated Bell companies in the USA. Cincinnati and Suburban earned at the rate of 9.3 per cent in 1954, while Ohio Bell earned at the rate of 6.8 per cent. The average earnings of other Bell associates was 6.1 per cent.

THE LOWLAND SEA

In the story of the operetta, a sailor, Johnny Dee (Fred Kinnaman) has to sail away to sea, but before he goes he gets a promise from the girl he loves, Dorie Davis, (Dorothy Hanning) to wait for him. Later on after Johnny gets news that the ship which Johnny was on had been lost at sea. Meanwhile back at home, Nathaniel Hazard (Dick Applegate) is in love with Dorie and is begging her to marry him. Believing that Johnny is really dead, Dorie finally consents and marries Nathaniel. But actually Johnny is not dead. It seems that he contracted a disease while at sea and was transferred to another ship. After a period of a year, Johnny finally arrives at home only to find Dorie married to Nathaniel. Though Johnny and Dorie still love each other, Johnny realizes he must leave home and finally sails away forever.

The other roles in the operetta are Captain Jesse (David Burnam), Amos (Dick Childress), the ship's doctor (Larry Landers), Hannah (Barbara Dunn), Patience (Judy Hicks), Abraham (Jerry Lauderdale), and Delight (Judy Whiteside). The operetta also features a chorus consisting of the following students: Nancy Fulkerson, Judy Cook, Janice Morse, Peggy Strader, Beverly Bristow, Collette Waverling, Leanna Cummins, Dorothy Winkelman, Dorothy Schneider, Anne Endsley, Pat Hodson, Mary Schwartz, Nina McDaniel, Peggy O'Neal, Mary Mullinix, Barbara Upchurch, Sara Cummins, Oren Brown, John Baker, Carroll Clark, Russ McDowell, George Barger, Lou Ray Williams, and John Maszaros.

The other operetta, "Sunday Excursion," also to be presented Feb. 24, has five solo parts and features Barbara Dunn, Dorothy Schneider, Oren Brown, Dick Fritts, and Carroll Clark.

The story of "Sunday Excursion" concerns two girls, Alice (Barbara Dunn) and Veronica (Dorothy Schneider), who have been to New York to spend the week end and are now returning by train to New Haven, Conn. They have not had a very enjoyable time and now are very bored on their way home. On the same train are also two boys, Hilary (Oren Brown) and Marvin (Dick Fritts), who have also been to New York and are returning home to New Haven. One of the girls and one of the boys accidentally recognize each other as that "smart" kid in his Botany class back home at school. Though these two do not want to meet and become friends, the others want to become acquainted with each other very much. Finally the girls and boys become friends and enjoy the rest of the ride home so much that they are unwilling to get off the train when they arrive home. Tim, a vendor on the train, is played by Carroll Clark.

Admission for the operetta is 50c for adults and 40c for students.

Recommend Speed-Up in Payments Of School Claims

CHICAGO (UP) — The Illinois Schools Problems Commission has recommended legislation that would speed up payments of state aid claims to schools until there would be no more than a six-months lag at any time.

Rep. Charles Clabaugh (R-Champaign) said the commission also voted Friday to recommend that all school terms be nine months long.

He said the commission approved changes in the certification law for teachers, reducing the number of certificates from 22 to eight.

"We had a long discussion with people from the special charter districts," he said, "and there will have to be some minor adjustments made in their programs."

Clabaugh said the 17 special charter districts in the state operate outside the school law due to their establishment before the constitution of 1870.

He said some of their provisions run counter to school laws and will have to be amended.

ST. JOSEPH ASPIRIN FOR CHILDREN

FOR Spring modernize dramatize glamorize your home

with valance lighting

When you redecorate this spring, give a serious thought to new uses of lighting to accentuate the charm of your home. Lighted valances, brackets and cornices provide the newest and most glamorous general room lighting. Each provides predominant illumination on the walls. Lighted valances are used at window areas to unify draperies which should be light in color. They provide both indirect lighting on the ceiling as well as dramatic down lighting on the wall.

or cornice lighting

Lighted cornices are mounted at the ceiling and direct all their light downward. They are best applied to the full length of a wall, and give an illusion of height to low-ceiling rooms. Lighted wall brackets are designed like lighted valances, but mounted lower on the wall to provide specific lighting for reading in bed, over range surfaces, and other uses. There are many new styles in both incandescent and fluorescent lighting fixtures. See them now.

Register Ads Read All Over Country, Reader Says

"When you advertise in the Daily Register classifieds it goes all over the country. We in Chicago, are always looking for bargains," says James M. Anderson, a former resident in a letter to Gene Irvin at the Irvin Appliance Co.

Jimmy reads every word in his copy of The Daily Register, and did not miss a "goof" that appeared a few days ago, when Mr. Irvin put a hook on his 1's in a classified ad and it was interpreted as a 7 by the copy-writer.

Result, advertisement of a 77-ft. chest-type refrigerator. Mr. Anderson suggests that this 77 cubic foot job should have been advertised in Texas. To which the Classified Ad manager says, "Sir, The Daily Register is also read in Texas, and none of them tall-tale-telling cowhands along the Rio Grande have come up with a 77-ft. steer — yet!"

But, the Windy City has a citizen who has placed an order with Irvin Appliance Co., for a 77-foot chest, FOB, Chicago, Ill. Mr. Anderson adds that he plans to build and wants to include adequate room in his home specifications.

1,100 Refuse to Cross Picket Line At TVA Steam Plant

PADUCAH, Ky. (UP)—Nearly 1,100 workers refused to cross an AFL Pipefitters picket line at the Tennessee Valley Authority's 215-million-dollar Shawnee steam plant again today, halting construction at the huge plant for the second day.

Some 1,000 workers out of 1,100 stayed away from work Monday after Pipefitters Local 184 set up a picket line protesting TVA's discharge of four men last week.

The picket line was set up again this morning, pending a settlement of the discharge issue. Plant officials said the construction force is being gradually reduced as the plant nears completion. The plant, which will supply power to the nearby atomic energy plant, is scheduled to be in full operation late this year.

The striking workers are employed directly by TVA, and no contractor is involved. If you have a big box of brand-new clothespins, wash them in a salt-water solution before using. They will last longer this way and will not freeze on the clothes when there's ice in the air, these cold days.

Nationalists Sink Gunboat, Attack Red Junks

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—The Chinese Nationalist air force today claimed to have sunk a 700-ton Red Chinese gunboat and five armed junks in a heavy attack on 200 Communist warcraft overtaken in waters 120 miles north of Formosa.

An official announcement said two other warships and two gunboats were damaged and an unspecified number of the fleet of motorized junks were put out of action.

The daylong attack, centering in waters between Communist-held Peichi and Nationalist-held Nanchi Islands, still was continuing, the announcement said.

Earlier another large fleet of Chinese vessels spotted in the vicinity of Nanchi had touched off an invasion scare here. But a Nationalist spokesman later identified the vessels as either part of a training exercise or a fleet of fishing vessels.

Election officials reported that by 9 a. m. CST, 219,321 persons had voted. Of these, 187,065 were Democrats.

A projected total would give the city a turnout of 81.284, somewhat below the million or so predicted earlier.

Annual Music Festival Held by Woman's Club

The annual Music Festival sponsored by the Harrisburg Woman's club was held last evening in the auditorium of the First Baptist church. The baptistry was adorned with fern plants brought by Mrs. H. B. Bauman.

The program opened with the invocation by Rev. Ernest Ammon after which Mrs. J. L. Miller, president of the Woman's club, gave welcoming remarks. Mrs. Miller then introduced Mrs. P. W. Sherman, the club member who saw the need for culture of this kind around 20 years ago and who has been chairman of the affair since that time.

The musical program began with songs by the Carrier Mills Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs under the direction of Mrs. Robert Steely. The students were attractively dressed in pink shirts and black ties. Miss Wanda Hollaway was soloist for the group.

Following a piano solo, "Fantasia Impromptu," by Larry Edwards, a group of Eldorado high school madrigal singers dressed in colorful medieval costumes sang three numbers after which the Eldorado chorus, directed by Ed Creek Jr., sang, "Bill Coker was soloist in the song "Deep River." After a short intermission several students from the Harrisburg Township high school who are known as the Vocalaires sang four German Folk songs and closed with songs from the opera "Carmen."

The group was then joined by the HTHS choir which is supervised by John Schork. Fred Kinnaman served as soloist for the Harrisburg chorus. A Coke party was held for the students in the educational building following the program. The dining room table was patriotically decorated with a red cloth and centered with a bouquet of red carnations flanked with large red, white and blue candles with miniature crossed flags attached. The long table was set with trays of dainty sandwiches, potato chips and snack bits which the students enjoyed with Cokes.

Mrs. G. R. Johnson was chairman of the refreshment committee and was assisted by Mrs. Hudson Muge, Mrs. L. N. Davenport, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. Francis Jahn, Mrs. Ed Brantley, Mrs. V. V. Brown, Mrs. Paul Hatfield, Mrs. J. A. Bottomley, Mrs. J. D. Wimpsey, Mrs. K. C. Capel and Mrs. O. L. Turner Jr.

Mrs. C. E. Wing served as an usher.

U. S. Defeats England in Pancake Race

LIBERAL, Kan. (UP)—The United States defeated England in the international pancake race today for the second year in a row, with Mrs. Binnie Dick repeating her triumph of 1954. Her time over the 415-yard course was 1 minute 5.1 seconds.

In Olney, England, an Irish-sheathed course held the winner, Mrs. Doris Millward, to 1 minute 18.5 seconds.

The women of Olney won the first three international sprints. But Mrs. Dick, wife of a disabled war veteran, broke the string with her triumph last year with a record time of 1:07.7.

The Kansas course was "dry and fast," but the runners battled a strong headwind and near-freezing temperature. Mrs. Nina Jordan was second, as she was last year.

Across the Atlantic, Mrs. Ruby Wining, 28, was second over the course set up 510 years ago between Olney's Bull Hotel and the parish church porch.

Mrs. Seright and Friend from Kansas City Tell of Experiences in Hawaii Trip

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Daisy M. Seright of The Register and her friend, Mrs. Blanche Eden of Kansas City, Kans., have just returned to the United States from a trip to Hawaii. Some of their experiences have been written in the form of a round-robin letter to friends at home. The letter was not originally intended for publication, and is in informal style, but is believed of sufficient interest to publish in instalments, of which this is the first.

Section I—Reporter: Blanche Eden
"The Trip Over"

We sailed from San Francisco, Jan. 17th at 4 p. m. aboard the Matson Lines Luxury Liner Lurline and headed into the worst storm they have had in many years. It was only a matter of minutes until Daisy was on the floor of the bathroom with her head over the bowl, where she remained for a couple of hours, while I, maintaining a firm but flat stand in my bed, fared a little better. The ship nurse and stewardess were very attractive, although 98 per cent of the passengers were ill. We were unable to even make the effort to dress the following day, Tuesday, but by evening were enjoying a K. C. steak about two inches thick that was served in our room.

Our tour conductor, Mr. Neill, is a darling and reminds both Daisy and myself of my brother George. He is just wonderful, gave our group of twenty a very festive party Wednesday evening of all you could wish—every assortment of appetizers, a chaffing dish of shrimp and other delicacies. We have never eaten more wonderful food and our waiter brings us so much more than we order, exotic dishes to try. We are seated with the "Paynes" from Billings, Montana, whom we enjoy so very much. The Steward brings us a basket of fruit to our room each night at bed time.

There is such a variety of entertainment. There are two hundred in the Hula dancing class—some are seventy five years old. Daisy most likely would have been a member of the class had she not had the difficulties of the first day at sea. It is almost as much fun to be spectators as some are so graceful—others NO!! We have horse races twice a day, the winner determined by dice throws.

We have met two such nice widows from Chicago and Traverse City, Michigan. Both are banker's widows and outside of being the two most outstanding in dress, they are friendly and good bridge players and we have enjoyed several games with them. Poor Daisy has held no cards, but I've had unusually good ones.

There is an interesting crowd on board. The Calhouns, from Pennsylvania, are the most outstanding couple. They drove to the pier in San Francisco in their blond Cadillac and liveried chauffeur, unloaded fifteen pieces of blonde rawhide luggage, two immense golf bags, guns and an odd blonde chest. She is tall and grey-haired, wears her hair in a large bun, wearing a blonde seal shortie and charcoal plaited skirt and steel beaded charcoal seuffies. She has such unusual French clothes. One a black taffeta long bodice with a gorgeous skirt of black lace over shell pink heavy satin and shell pink embroidered with pink beads on black pumps and other beautiful unusual clothes. There are quite a few very outstanding people and lovely clothes. There are 720 on board and 22 Yale graduates and wives of the class of 1905 on the trip being entertained on the Island by a classmate, Mr. Cook. They added much to the crowd and to the Talent Show, which we all enjoyed. Everyone so free and easy and friendly.

One of the outstanding events was the Captain's Dinner following cocktails in the ballroom. You have never seen such decorations and unusual food. All wore paper hats, and balloons galore and there must have been at least one-fourth of the women wearing orchids. They served K. C. steaks and all the trimmings, rare salads and cocktails. We played bingo afterwards. We weren't lucky but there were ten who won from $50 to $250. It was fun, tho, and after the bingo there was a dance. No two danced the same.

This is truly a luxury liner. We have such a beautiful room, about 13x18. Gray walls and carpet and

Observe FFA
Week, Feb. 19-26

Gov. William G. Stratton has proclaimed the week of Feb. 19-26 as Future Farmers of America week and the FFA chapter at the high school, under E. J. Thompson, agricultural teacher, is observing the event.

FFA chapters play an important part in training future farmers. The nation must have about 130,000 new farmers every year to replace those who die, retire, or otherwise leave the farm. These must be men with experience and training enough to become successful farmers.

Vocational agriculture and the FFA constitute the most effective program yet developed for training boys to be good farmers and help them to become established in the farming occupations of their choice.

The Illinois Foundation of Future Farmers of America urges those interested in farming to give their support to the FFA chapter of their area.

turquoise upholstered lounges that make into comfortable beds with foam rubber mattresses—a five-foot dressing table with a five-foot mirror above, a bar with chests of drawers in light gray wood, two closets, lavatory and toilet in one space and lavatory and shower in another. Lovely lamps and coffee table, it is all really very ultra—

There are two picture shows a day, swimming and uke lessons. Tea is served on deck at 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. I've never seen so much food and the very best but so much wasted. All the stewards and attendants on board are so courteous and solicitous of you having a good time. A Mr. Howard Morris, a Kamaania of the Islands, is well versed in all that is of Hawaii and instructs the Hula classes. Each morning, we receive under our door, a paper, giving the world's most important news and the day's program on the ship. We are glad we didn't spend our money on deck chairs, as it has been too cold, only to walk on deck.

On arriving at Honolulu, a little boat carrying the native musicians and Hula dancers met our ship with hundreds of leis. They boarded the Lurline and gave a half hour program of music and dancing and showered us with leis. Then each group were photographed before leaving ship. We leave the lovely Lurline in the tropical atmosphere of the Islands and take limousines to the Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

TAKE IT AWAY DAISY.

3 States Study
Cincinnati-St.
Louis Toll Road

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Representatives of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio have agreed to a joint survey of the possibility of a St. Louis-to-Cincinnati toll road.

Evan Howell and Albert Wedeking, representing the Illinois and Indiana toll road commissions respectively, will meet in Chicago next Tuesday to name the firm which will do the survey.

The study will be financed by the three states on the basis of the route's mileage in each state. Ohio decided not to send a delegate to the Chicago meeting.

The plan was ratified Monday at an eight-state conference on transportation called by Indiana Gov. George Craig. About 200 persons representing Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, Iowa, Michigan, Alabama, Nebraska and Indiana attended.

In addition to Craig, Govs. William Stratton of Illinois, Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, Victor E. Anderson of Nebraska and Lawrence Weatherly of Kentucky were present.

A proposal for a Chicago-to-Miami toll road also was discussed. The Alabama delegation said Gov. James Folsom would cooperate in such a project.

A joint statement issued by the five governors said the economic growth of the country would hinge on steps taken to "improve and enhance our present system of transportation."

They urged Congress to speed the completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway and to implement the 10-year national highway program proposed by President Eisenhower. They also urged other states to cooperate in the construction of tax-free toll roads.

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Gov. William Stratton of Illinois has predicted that a 400-million-dollar revenue bond issue to finance Illinois' 193-mile toll road system will go through on schedule.

Stratton told a one-day conference of 200 transportation officials Monday that the Illinois toll road program will not be delayed further by a property owners suit.

JOHN SMALL
Candidate
For Police Magistrate

Practically every voter in the City of Harrisburg is personally acquainted with my past record as a law enforcement officer. I attempted to be honest and impartial in all my dealings with those involved in both Civil and Criminal cases. I believe my experience fully qualifies me for the duties of the office of Police Magistrate.

I pledge, if elected as your Police Magistrate, to be fair and considerate in all cases which may come before me for consideration.

If you favor this kind of treatment, I will highly appreciate your vote and influence in my behalf as a candidate for the office.

In Memoriam In memory of my darling sister, Mrs. Bernice Swan. Into Heaven's mansions, Sister has gone. Never to sigh or weep. After years with life's struggles, Bernice has fallen asleep. In the cemetery we have laid her in the silent city to lie. And although our hearts are broken We must not question why. She does not rest Beneath the grass in our thoughts. Tho over her grave they creep. She has gone into the Kingdom. She has fallen asleep. Beautiful rest for the weary. Well deserved rest for the true. When our life's journey is ended, Dear, we shall again be with you. This helps us so much in our sorrow. Then why for her must we weep. For in His word He has promised He giveth His beloved sleep. Sadly missed by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo King and sons. 200-1

In Memoriam In memory of our daughter, Mrs. Bernice Swan. Our precious daughter, it has been a year since you left us. Your dear face, no more can we see. Our hearts are filled with sadness, For on earth no more you'll be. More and more each day we miss you. Friends may think the wound is healed. But they little know the sorrow. That is in our hearts concealed. Soft and bright the stars are shining. Shining over your lonely grave. Where lies the one we loved so dearly. Whose life we prized but could not save. The years may wipe out many things. But this they will wipe out never. The memory of those happy days When we were all together. We think of you in silence. Your name we often call. But there is nothing left to answer. But your picture on the wall. Those shining gates of heaven. The dear Lord opened wide. And smiled on His new treasure As he drew her to His side. Dear daughter how we miss you. The voice we loved is still. There's a vacant place in our hearts Which no one else will ever fill. But if we shall be faithful And serve God until the end. Some day around the Great White Throne. We shall be together again. Father, Mother, Sister and Brother. 200-1

Film at Lions Shows Advances in Electric Industry

"The Eager Advance," a film depicting the advancement of the electrical industry, was shown at Monday night's meeting of the Harrisburg Lions club.
The film was made to commemorate the Diamond Jubilee of electric lighting. In addition to showing many of the advancements through the past 75 years, the film also gave a preview of things to come—things that are still more or less in the experimental stage, but far enough advanced to be assured of success in the not too far distant future.
The film was brought to Harrisburg by Carl Wall, CIP's representative from Marion.
Mr. Wall revealed that 41 per cent of the world's electricity is

Pinckneyville Skids to Fifth In UP Ratings

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois' top 15 teams underwent considerable reshuffling this week but the result found Rockford West perched atop the heap as firmly as ever.
For the second straight week Rockford West got all but one vote as No. 1 team from the United Press board of coaches, made up of coaches from schools which went to the state finals last year.
Centralia stayed in the second spot and got the lone dissenting first-place vote. Moline, winning twice during the week, moved from fifth spot to the third notch.

The teams were ranked the same as last week from 6th position through 10th—Collinsville, Cicero Morton, Elgin, Edwardsville and Decatur.
East St. Louis, toppled by Alton, dropped from 11th to 14th in the poll and was replaced by unbeaten Cumberland, which moved up a notch from 12th. Alton got votes from seven coaches but not enough total points to move back into the top 15.
Pekin edged into 12th position, changing places with Harvey Thornton, down to 13th.
Barrington barely nosed out the resurgent Mount Vernon Rams, last year's state champs, for 15th ranking. Barrington was also 15th in last week's poll.

By BILL MELTON
The Eldorado Eagles, who will meet the Crossville district winner in the last game of the opening round of the Norris City regional tourney, are coming along at a rapid pace and must be given serious consideration as a possible tourney title taker.

Eldorado last won a regional title in 1950 and it was on the Norris City floor. The Eagles copied the championship with a 69-39 decision over Equality in the final game.

This season's squad resembles the 1950 one in many ways—underclassmen dominated the 1950 outfit and this year's team is heavy with juniors. The 1950 squad was sparked by a senior, James Beasley, playing his only year of varsity ball. A senior that was unknown at the beginning of this season—Ed Lissak—has added lots of strength to the latest edition of Eagles.

And both teams entered tourney play with winning records. To date Eldorado has won 14 and lost 7.

Nine members of the 1950 squad were letter winners. Only two were seniors, five were juniors and two sophomores. This year Coach Al Adams has carried thirteen players all season and four are seniors, the other nine juniors. This year's team has one big advantage—it has one senior veteran, Capt. Keith Whittier.

Eldorado is in the lower bracket along with Harrisburg and Carmi, plus the district winner from the Crossville tourney. These four teams will be in action Wednesday night, March 2.

From this group of 13 players Adams will pick his ten-man tourney squad—Keith Whittier 6-0, Ed Lissak 6-2½, Jim Wright 6-3 and Jim Lyon 5-10, all seniors; Bob Watson 5-11, Bob Laffoon 6-0, Lindell Lovellette 6-1½, Ronnie Stroke 5-10½, Ronnie Clark 5-8, Frank Willis 5-7, Roscoe Wood 5-7½, Bill Putnam 5-10½ and Jerry Chandler 5-11, all juniors.

In the eyes of Joe DiMaggio, Willie Mays is the greatest ball player active today. He hopes no one will interfere with Willie's style of play. Talking to a writer for The Sporting News, DiMaggio said: "I would not teach a young player to do things the way Willie does. That basket catch close to the body, for instance. But for Mays the way he performs is natural, and nobody should interfere with him. Just let that boy alone. He's just too wonderful to spoil."

The Red Sox farm director, Johnny Murphy, says the only answer to getting ball players is the farm system. Talking to a correspondent for The Sporting News, Murphy said he had to laugh when he read that the new owners of the Athletics have $1,000,000 to spend on buying players. "Where," he asked, "are they going to buy them? You don't buy players, he said, you develop your own."

HTHS Freshmen Win Two Games From Eldorado

The freshman varsity basketball team coached by Jim McKee last night beat the Eldorado frosh, 44 to 43, in an overtime game at Eldorado after the freshman reserves from HTHS won the preliminary, 66 to 25.

In the main tilt Eldorado was out in front 10-6 at the quarter and 20-18 at the half. Harrisburg went ahead in the third quarter to lead, 31-29, at the end of the frame, and the regulation time ended with the game tied up, 42-42.

For Harrisburg Ray Hassett was high with 18 points. Bob Clark had 12, Bill Yates 9, Eddie Price 2, Donald Biggs 3 and Jerry Hicks none.

Willis of Eldorado was high scorer of the game with 32 of his team's 43 points.

Harrisburg led 20-9 at the quarter, 36-16 at the half and 46-20 at the end of the third quarter of the preliminary contest. L. J. Banks was high for Harrisburg with 18. Bud Logan and Jerry Hicks had 12 each, Mickey Stone 10, Zan Heffner 8 and Jon Frohock 6.

Harrisburg is host to McLeansboro Wednesday night for the final freshman games of the season. There will be two contests starting at 6:30 p. m.

First Eight Teams Eliminated in District Play

SPRINGFIELD — The first eight teams Monday night were put out of the chase for the 1955 state high school basketball crown as district tournament play began.

The odds were against any of the "Little Davids" even getting to the "Sweet 16" finals at Champaign, but the districts present some fine teams. A total of 726 clubs, including the Chicago public schools, still are in the running for the basketball championship.

Leading the eight winners in the six tourneys that got underway Monday were once-beaten Elburn and Peotone. Elburn trounced Yorkville in the opening game at Batavia, 81-48. Peotone eliminated Beecher 82-49 at Manteno.

At Seneca, Newark needed two overtimes to push by Leland 67-65. Mooseheart went down fighting before Plano 51-47 in the second game at Batavia. Manteno jarred Grant Park 82-50 at Manteno.

Minnesota-Iowa Tilt On Feb. 28 to Decide Title; Hawkeyes Beat Illini, 89-70

CHICAGO — Minnesota was only one victory away from clinching at least a tie for the Big Ten basketball crown today, but the league leading Gophers will have to risk their chances next against their leading challenger, Iowa's pre-season title favorites.

Minnesota clung to its half-game margin over the Hawkeyes Monday night with a 71-69 decision over Wisconsin on Chuck Mencil's basket with two seconds to play, while Iowa remained in the chase with an 89-70 triumph over Illinois at Champaign.

The two teams meet at Minneapolis Feb. 28 in the game which probably will decide the championship.

Iowa Favored Over Michigan
Though each team has been beaten twice in conference play, Iowa has played one less game. The Hawkeyes will even this matter at home Saturday against Michigan and will be favorites to win this battle and enter the game against Minnesota with an identical record, 10 wins and two losses.

After the Iowa-Minnesota scrap, Minnesota plays Wisconsin a second game, this time at Minneapolis, while Iowa closes the season with another match with Michigan at Ann Arbor. Minnesota is idle next Saturday, giving the Gophers an extra two days of rest and a chance to watch their rivals on television in the afternoon match with Michigan.

Only Iowa and Minnesota retained a chance for the title. Though mathematically, Illinois had a chance to tie, it could gain a deadlock only if both the leaders lost two more games and that was an impossibility in view of their match against each other.

Iowa Surges Ahead
Illinois was no match for the Hawkeyes Monday night. Though the Illini trailed by only three points at the half, Iowa connected for 16 points in the first five minutes of the second half to take a 13-point margin and Illinois never challenged again. Bill Logan canned 21 points for Iowa and George Bon Salle 23 for Illinois.

Wisconsin held a lead on the Gophers most of the way, but Minnesota finally tied the match at 69-all with a minute and a half to play and stalled until Mencil's game-winning shot. Dick Miller dropped 31 points for Wisconsin while Dick Garmaker made 28 for Minnesota to regain first place in the league individual scoring race with a 25.9 average.

Suspect in Holdup At Stonefort Has Record in Indiana

Deputy Sheriff James S. Lyon said today that a suspect held in the Saline county jail in connection with the Evans service station burglary at Stonefort Sunday night, has a record in Indiana.

Lyon said Indiana state police told him that Edward Hubert, 31, Georgetown, Ind., held here, was sentenced in October, 1952, to serve a term of from one to ten years for first degree burglary and grand larceny in Indiana.

Hubert denied burglarizing the service station when arrested in Harrisburg yesterday with cigars, cigarettes and candy bars in his clothing. Also, Sheriff William T. Barrett said, he was identified as a man given a ride yesterday morning from Stonefort to Harrisburg.

Gaiety Reigns at Mardi Gras Climax to Carnival Jinxed by Riots, Plane Crashes

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Funmakers reigned supreme today on the Mardi Gras climax of two-week carnival time which has been marred by two plane crashes fatal to six visitors and open riots.

Thousands of masked and costumed celebrants flooded the streets and famed bars as subjects of Rex, Lord of Misrule, who ruled supreme on this FAT Tuesday from sunrise to sundown.

Rex shares his command with Zulu King, the Negro Mardi Gras chieftain, who rules over his subjects on this last official day of carnival which ends when the 40-day Lenten season of penitence begins at midnight.

Riots Bring Arrests

Already this was the most jinxed of the past 127 carnival seasons. Two plane crashes, one of them late Monday, killed a total of six visitors to the fun fest. The second plane crash followed only a few hours the worst overflow of carnival spirit here since a nude woman rode a horse up spacious Canal Street several years ago and set off pandemonium.

The Mardi Gras revelry boiled over into riots in the French Quarter Monday, where at least 15 persons were injured and 100 arrested. Seven of the injured were policemen who finally quelled the series of disorders.

All members of the 1,000-man New Orleans police force were called on duty today and a double guard was ordered up in the French Quarter, center of the revelry, to prevent any further outbreaks.

As planned, no parades were held Monday so the celebrants could rest up for the happy climax. A light rain last night cut the outdoor crowd in the French Quarter in half.

Big Parades Planned

Police Superintendent Joseph L. Scheuring said "we want everybody to have a good time, but we want it to be a peaceful one."

Downtown streets were roped off for the winding parades.

Rex made his advent this morning. Zulu was to land from a converted coal barge at the foot of Canal Street on the Mississippi River. Where he rambles after that is anyone's guess.

Zulu, who flourishes a scepter of anything from a beer bottle to a banana stalk, signals the start of the parade. Wearing royal robes instead of the traditional hula skirt this year, Zulu said he would have about 1,000 gilded coconuts to hand out to spectators.

At midnight the end of Mardi Gras and the beginning of Lenten season will be signalled by the pealing of bells in historical St. Louis Cathedral which draws the faithful to Mass.

Eldorado Program Cited By Freedom Foundation

the high school there. Personnel from the Edward R. Murrow CBS Television show in New York spent a full week in Eldorado recording activity on film and it was presented to a nationwide audience in September. Since that time the city has received numerous inquiries about locating industry there and one factory already is in operation. Also, apparently a sewing factory will be there soon.

Scores of Eldorado persons, not just a few, took part in the operation, with progress reports being made at weekly meetings held at the high school.

Improvements made during the summer included remodeling the entrance to the Eldorado city hall and clearing off an unsightly piece of land on South Fourth street near Route 45.

The Freedom's Foundation is a non-profit organization chartered to make awards annually to individuals, organizations and schools "for their outstanding contributions to a better understanding of the American way of life."

With Eldorado receiving the top community award, some of the second place community awards went to: American Farm Bureau Federation for its National Citizenship program; the National Council for Community Improvement of St. Louis, Mo.; the Juvenile Aid Bureau of New York City; the Key Club International of Chicago for a campaign to cure vandalism; and the Greater Muskegon Chamber of Commerce of Muskegon, Mich.

In other departments, this year's winners include Evangelist Billy Graham, St. John's university and the Kiwanis International.

Distinguished Awards Jury

The 1954 awards recipients were chosen by a distinguished Awards Jury composed of thirty state supreme court justices and executive officers of national patriotic, veterans and service club organizations. The jury spent two weeks at the Foundation's headquarters during December selecting awardees under the non-voting chairmanship of Dr. George D. Humphrey, president of the University of Wyoming.

There are two divisions of award—School and National. The School division provides awards for programs by public, private and parochial schools, together with categories for high school newspaper editorials and college campus programs.

National awards are made in 15 categories: Advertising campaigns, cartoons, community programs, company employee publications, editorials, essays, general letters from armed forces personnel, magazine articles, motion pictures, photographs with captions, public addresses, radio programs, sermons, and television programs.

The body is now at the Rose funeral home where it will lie in state until funeral time which is Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Cave-in-Rock Baptist church. The Rev. Richard Hubble, J. A. Hard and Robert Stephens will officiate, and burial will be in the Cave-in-Rock Masonic cemetery.

. . . and Returns the Favor!

Nothing daunted, "Pusher" reacted immediately and with great skill (above) as he provided Bob with a similar lemon cream countenance. The stunt was part of the program at the local club's observance of Rotary's Golden Anniversary. Lowden Pankey of Pankey's bakery prepared this portion of the program, and also baked the beautiful cake shown in the left foreground of the above picture. The cake was decorated with gold-colored frosting and topped with a replica of the Rotary wheel.

Negotiators Again Tackle Task to Avert Phone Strike

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Negotiators today again tackled the task of averting a state-wide General Telephone Co. of Illinois strike.

After meetings Friday and Monday, Federal Conciliator Francis Sheridan, Peoria, said union and company officials "are about as far apart as they were when we started."

Plant workers represented by Locals 51 and 702 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers already have voted to strike after rejecting a 5.3 cent hourly increase offered by the company.

Sheridan said he would rather not disclose the latest wage proposal of either side pending a break in negotiations.

The union also is seeking seniority job security provisions.

A strike would involve 508 plant workers, including linemen, who service company exchanges and lines in more than 700 Illinois communities. There also would be a possibility that telephone operators, who have a working contract but are members of the same union, would observe picket lines.
